

C57: TC012 – Cart shows single added item after it's added to the cart

|                          |                        |                     |                   |
|--------------------------|------------------------|---------------------|-------------------|
| Type              | Priority        | Estimate     | References |
| Functional               | Medium                 | None                | None              |
| AI Automated Test | Automation Type | Is Automated |                   |
| None                     | None                   | No                  |                   |
| Labels            |                        |                     |                   |

Steps

|          |                                                                  |                                                                      |
|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 | Log in with valid credentials                                    | The user is successfully logged in and the Product page is displayed |
| 2 | Choose first item in Product page and click "Add to cart" button | The item is added to the cart                                        |
| 3 | Verify the cart icon                                             | Cart icon displays 1                                                 |
| 4 | Click "The Cart" button                                          | The Cart page is displayed                                           |
| 5 | Verify the item on Cart page                                     | The added item is displayed in the cart                              |